

STEVE NAKASHIMA

ARTIST

Artist Statement

Whether it's on the computer or the canvas, art for me has been both an outlet for self expression as well as a tool for self discovery. Although some work may be made to provoke questions or responses, the main reason why I create anything is the hope that whoever views it feels something, regardless of what that feeling is.

Exhibitions

Although I have yet to exhibit my work to the public in the traditional sense. My art is always viewable on my personal website (www.shima1.net).
